

SAVE THE DATE

Part 2 of the City of Wichita's "Arts and Culture Industry Lecture Series"

"Design and Integrated Art in the Built Environment"

10 a.m.-1 p.m., Saturday, May 14

Century II Mary Jane Teall Theater, 225 W. Douglas

Presentation and panel discussion led by Tim Austin, Chairman of Wichita's Design Council. Will include examples of projects going on across the country to integrate art into architecture and where Wichita falls nationally in its beautification efforts. Lecture for architects, engineers, graphic artists, artists, consultants, city officials and community members who want to learn more about the link between aesthetics and community success. Presentation topics available at Wichita.gov, click on "Arts & Culture."

Attendees have option of purchasing lunch for $8. RSVP for lunch to Bernadette Bradshaw at (316) 303-8663 or bbradshaw@wichita.gov by Wednesday, May 11.

Panel Members:

Tim Austin, chairman
Design Council

Vicki Scuri,
Seattle-based public
artist and environmental designer

Barbara Luecke,
Seattle-based public arts
program and project
manager

Roger Brown,
senior vice president,
Law/Kingdon Architecture

Jeff Fluhr, CEO,
Wichita Downtown
Development Corp.

Kent Williams,
local environmental artist